

ICCP2012 - Message board

This message board will be up temporarily. We can not guarantee that it will be alive until the conference starts. But you can use it for the time being, e.g. if you'd like to connect to other ICCP-participants for sharing a room during the conference, or for other related issues. If you want to post a message here, just e-mail the text of this message to iccp2012@tropos.de. The board will be updated about once a week.

- Possible BMW factory tour -

BMW's plant in Leipzig offers a factory tour in english for a maximum of 30 people for 130 Euros total. Three of us non-conference participants are going to book a tour for either Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday afternoon, and invite others to join us, in the hopes of sharing the price (and the good time) The plant is reachable by public transportation. For more information, see the links below; the first is the official one; the second is a BMW addict's review of his tour. If you are interested in joining us, please write to me at MGArwin@aol.com.
